IMPORTANT NOTE RE CONGREGATIONAL SINGING

WHEN SINGING AT MASS FOR THE TIME BEING YOU ARE REQUIRED TO WEAR A MASK ACCORDING TO CURRENT HEALTH DEPARTMENT INSTRUCTIONS.

No one of us needs reminding of the turbulent year coming to a close later this month. Whatever sense of security and welfare we had, has been challenged. Our lives and behaviours have had to change for the sake of everyone's health. The tragic fires of the summer followed by destructive floods and of course the pandemic underscored the days, weeks and months of our lives through this year.

The global community is still in significant trouble with the virus. We are blessed in our leadership here in this country along with the response of the people around the nation, and the improved state of affairs we are now gladly if watchfully enjoying.

Along with all this, Australia's relationship with China is increasingly fractious and worrying politically and economically. The rate of domestic violence in Australia has increased alarmingly during the pandemic along with an increase in human trafficking. The never-seen-before shenanigans that have been the sequel to the recent US election have brought a new sense of uncertainty not only to that divided country but to the rest of the world which depends on a stable US government.

On a positive note, families across the country are joyfully anticipating reunions that have not been possible for many months. Grandparents are greeting grandchildren they barely recognise, so quickly have they grown. The Australian economy seems to be turning a corner which is a sign of hope especially for people who are still looking for work. The international cricket season is underway, with real people able to watch the games live, and trite as this may sound, for so many, a warming sense of normality is returning with the sound of willow on leather once again!

Here we are then celebrating Christmas, once again in the middle of great human and environmental drama.

What does it mean that Jesus is born if people continue to live in poverty, slavery and fear? What does it matter that Jesus is born if the resources of the earth are being consumed at a greater rate than they can be replenished? What is there to celebrate when hope is in short supply for so many? Even in the light of all this, there are people all around the world for whom the birth of Jesus really is the birth of hope. The kingdom of God which he ushers in is no pie in the sky utopian future. The kingdom of God that Jesus proclaims and for which he gives his life, is a grounded, realistic, healthy spirited program of healing, justice, peace and hope.

This kingdom of God living doesn't come easily. It requires our very best shot, a spirit of courage and sacrifice and a readiness to integrate our own desires and needs with the good of the whole community in mind. It takes practice and the ability to re-group when we get it wrong. We're in the presence of unconditional mercy so that this re-grouping caper is not as tough as it might seem. When this new program of being and living takes hold, the results are stunning. Here hope is born, a hope that excludes no one, a hope that embraces the whole creation.

As we celebrate the birth of Jesus yet again, the choice is ours. We can simply turn inwards and celebrate in an increasingly bland and secular culture, or we can allow Jesus and his family to become part of our family and allow their presence to enliven, challenge and delight us.

The choice is clear and yours to make. Really inviting Jesus into your homes could lead to an extra special and blessed Christmas, and that is my wish for each of you and your families.

Father Kevin

Heartfelt held via Zoom each Monday evening from 7.30-8.30pm.

For Zoom details please contact Bridget Sakr at Bridget/sakr@gmail.com or team@griefcare.com.au

Bridget writes: "Through my tragedy and trauma of losing Veronique in February 1 this year, I have been blessed with amazing support from many people. - There was no place where people could come together in prayer and bring their loss, trauma and grief to God in the presence of one another in an environment where there is trust. heartFELT was created to provide this platform. I saw this as helping me also, a way to heal my wounded soul."

POINT TO PONDER

God of all time,
Who makes all things new,
we bring before you the year now ending.
For life full and good,
for opportunities recognized and taken,
for love known and shared,
we thank you.
Where we have fallen short,
forgive us
When we worry over what is past,
free us.
As we begin again
and take our first few steps into the future,
where nothing is safe and certain,
except you,
we ask for the courage of the wise men
who simply went and follow a star.
We ask for their wisdom,
in choosing to pursue the deepest truth,
not knowing where they would be led.
In the year to come, God of all time,
be our help and company.
Hold our hands as we journey onwards
and may your dream of shalom,
where all will be at peace,
be our guiding star.

Francis Brien

COMING SOON

Christmas!!

This Week... Scripture Zone

First Reading:

2 Samuel 7:1-5,8-12,14,16

As we recount the story of King David, today's reading marks a new beginning in Israel's relationship with the Lord. David wants to give the Ark of the Covenant—the special place of the Lord's presence—a new home, to become a sign this presence and the Covenant it signifies. Through the prophet Nathan, David is reminded that it is the Lord who will establish David's reign forever.

Response

For ever I will sing the goodness of the Lord.

Second Reading:

Romans 16:25-27

Once again, our Second Reading comes from the end of one of Paul's Letters, this time, the Letter to the Romans. This final doxology praises the mystery kept secret for ages, names who the scriptures have predicted and the way the eternal God wants things to be.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, Alleluia!

I am the servant of the Lord: may his will for me be done. Alleluia!

Gospel Reading

Luke 1:26-38

On this last Sunday of Advent, the church turns to the mother of Jesus, and we turn to Luke's Gospel to recount for us the story of Gabriel's annunciation to Mary. It is a story we know well: we have heard it countless times; it has been portrayed in art and poetry for centuries. But, this Advent, can we hear this story anew? Can we welcome the angel's message, and with Mary, respond with faith and with simplicity?

OUR PARISH PRAYER

Loving God,

you are the home for our hearts' deepest longings.

We find our way as families and as individuals only in you, through our brother Jesus, encouraged by the breath of your Spirit.

We thank you for all the blessings we enjoy in our parish family.

May we continue to share our gifts of life and love with glad and generous hearts.

May our world be somehow more alive because we have passed this way.

May Mary our parish patron continue to inspire us as we give new birth to your Word in our turn.

We make our prayer in Jesus' Name. Amen.
